WORCESTER COMMENCEMENT

Program of Exercises Beginning Sunday Evening—(Obituary of John Pullen and George Wright)—Miss Crippen Entertains.

Worcester, June 19. — The baccalaureate services will be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. W. D. Jones, will preach to the graduating class on the theme, "Fidelity to the Elements in a Worthwhile Success."

Owing to an epidemic of measles the graduation exercises, which were to have been held Monday evening, June 20, have been postponed indefinitely. Promotion exercises will be held Tuesday afternoon at the high school at 2:30 o'clock.

Wednesday evening at the Wieting opera house will be held the graduation exercises. The following young ladies and gentlemen comprise the class: Mary Bailey, Evelyn Bolt, Frances Brady, Willard Chase, John DeHullon, Jr., Alton Waterman, Melvin Ferguson and William Whitcomb. The Alumni association will hold their annual banquet at the Central hotel Friday evening, June 21.

Miss Crippen Entertains D. A. R.

The June meeting of the D. A. R. held yesterday afternoon at the chapter house proved to be a most enjoyable affair, following the regular business meeting. Mrs. Harrison Crippen gave a very fine report of the continental congress, to which she was a delegate. Miss Christine Crippen of Oneonta, a recent graduate of the Leland Powers school of oratory, gave three delightful readings. Miss Crippen has a most pleasing personality and rare talent as a reader.

Obituary of John Pullen.

John Pullen, whose sudden death was mentioned in Thursday's paper, was born in Richmondville March 15, 1858, a son of Moses and Sally (Bailey) Pullen. March 2, 1876, he married Julia E. Wright of East Worcester, who survives him.

Mr. Pullen resided in Richmondville practically all his life, where he was a highly respected farmer, coming to Worcester about two years ago. Surviving relatives, beside the wife, are one daughter, Mrs. Carey Robinson of Roseboom, three sisters, Mrs. Robert Burnside of Worcester, Mrs. Thomas Day of East Worcester and Mrs. Axie Allen of Richmondville, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. from the house. Rev. Isaac Taylor of the Baptist church will officiate. Burial at Richmondville.

Obituary of George B. Wright.

Death has again removed one of our most respected citizens, George B. Wright, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Levi Robbins at Alfred, June 18.

Mr. Wright was born in Coventry December 22, 1851, son of Ben. G. and Betsey (Burr) Wright. On May 29, 1869, he married Elizabeth Gage, who died some three or four years ago. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Levi Robbins, of Alfred, two sons, Harry of St. Petersburg, Florida, and Ray, of Oneonta, one sister, Mrs. Althea Ryder of this village, and six grandchildren.

Mr. Wright was a member of Co. G, 45th Wisconsin Infantry, during the Civil war. He was a faithful honored member of Johnson post, No. 25, department of New York, G. A. R., having served as commander of the post for several terms, and was adjutant of the post at the time of his death. At the close of the war he taught school for some years. Then he opened up the Wright's Copying house, and for many years did a fine business in enlarging pictures, retiring from business only a few years ago.

The deceased was a devoted member of the Baptist church. He served as a deacon in the church several consecutive terms. Modest and unassuming, he was a man who could never countenance a wrong and was always guided by the Golden Rule, winning the esteem and friendship of the community.

Funeral services will be held from the Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2:30. It is expected Rev. Isenburgh of Sidney will officiate in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Isaac Taylor.

SPEEDING IN UNADILLA.

Albany and Mechanicville Men Pay Fines to Justice Mills.

Unadilla, June 19. — Two automobiles drove too fast through this village Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Motor Policeman Frank Webb was not sleeping on his job and followed at a moderate rate of speed until below Clifton street, then hastened enough to catch them below the West Main street railroad crossing. They returned with him to make a little call on Justice Edward Mills. The drivers of the two cars, Louis Oppenheimer of Albany and I. H. Baker of Mechanicville, paid a fine of $10 each and went on their way. Perhaps on their return they will try not to speed.

Headmaster in Connecticut School.

Word has been received in Unadilla that Prof. Delmar Sisson has been made head master of the Connecticut Literary Institute for boys at Suffield, Conn. The position was made vacant by the death of Headmaster Truesdell a short time ago. Prof. Sisson graduated from the Unadilla High school and Hamilton college, then taking a post graduate course at Columbia university.

Mr. Sisson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sisson of Wells Bridge. Mrs. Delmar Sisson, nee Catharine Seaman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Seaman of Unadilla, a graduate of the Unadilla High school and of the Oneonta Normal. Both are well known here, and their many friends are very glad to congratulate them. It is quite a responsible position for a young man of 32, but he is perfectly qualified and will prove his ability.

A Chicago Visitor.

Mrs. M. B. Sears of Chicago is spending the week with her friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Douglass.

Commencement Week.

Tuesday evening, June 25, occurs one of the happy events of commencement week, which the young people are anticipating pleasantly. The Junior prom is to be held in Mulford's hall. Good music will make the event joyous.

On the same Tuesday evening and of more importance to several of the commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

A Friend from Ithaca.

Mrs. John Clapp of Ithaca, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Graham in Hartwick, is calling on friends in town. Mrs. Clapp, nee Miss Hazel Graham, was a valued and popular clerk in the post office for about three years before her marriage.

A Memorial Service.

The I. O. O. F. and Hebeahs held a memorial service Sunday for those members of the two orders who have been called by death. It was a fitting tribute to their brothers and sisters of the past. The address by Rev. W. E. Elwood was most appropriate and interesting and was listened to very attentively by those present. On Sunday next the graves will be decorated with flowers. Twenty-three of the brothers and twelve sisters will be remembered in this manner. They are sleeping in cemeteries at Unadilla.

Sand Hill, Otsego, Oneonta, Sidney, Franklin, Trout Creek and White Store. Bachelors will visit each of these places with their floral tributes of memorial.

Visiting Her Parents.

Miss Queens Homan, a member of the faculty of the Albany Normal college, arrived here Tuesday evening to remain about a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Homan. She will return to teach through the summer session of the college.

Gone to Scotia.

Principal Conrad of the Unadilla High school has a position for next year at Scotia and at a good salary.

Home from Hospital.

Mrs. D. H. Crandall has returned home from Norwich where she had an operation in the Memorial hospital and then spent several weeks with her mother and sister while recuperating. She is much improved in health and feeling better than she has in a long time.

Commencement Entertainment.

The holders of the lecture course tickets should present them to be admitted to the musical comedy Monday evening, June 22, or they will have to pay admission.

In all probability this will be as much enjoyed as any number given in the course. It is a comedy in three acts, a Japanese-American operetta full of new and original jokes, charming melodies and pretty dances. It is the story of an American girl, who is left an orphan while quite small and living in Japan. When about eighteen years of age a party of Americans visit the island empire, and the efforts of Henry Smith to win her away from Tokyo, a rich politician, who is favored by her guardian, Koko, are too full of interest to allow failure of enjoyment.

The captivating dances, attractive costumes and lovely maidens and dashing gallants add charming details. There have been weeks of faithful practice and all the performers, under the supervision of Miss Coulter, are perfect in their part.

Dr. Allen Moves.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Allen are moving into the second floor apartment in the Gorman house on East Main street.

Real Estate Transfers.

Fred Whitmore has sold his farm in New Berlin village to Rita Dorsey Mullen of New York city. Orson Morgan has sold his farm on the state road at White Store to Mike Clements of Brooklyn. Mrs. Minnie Harris of Mt. Upton has sold her farm with stock and equipment to Omer Shelby of Tarrytown. Mr. Shelby has already taken possession. John Constable of Walton has bought of John W. Howland his farm with stock and tools at Bainbridge and will take possession September 1. John Oles of Unadilla has bought Mrs. W. H. Wright's house at Riverside, Sidney, with an acre of land. Sales made by Oles Farm agency, Unadilla.

CONCERT AT PORTLANDVILLE.

Interesting Entertainment Announced For Tonight at Church Hall.

Portlandville, June 19. — No one should forget the concert which has been announced for this (Friday) evening at church hall. A fine program has been prepared and there should be a large attendance.

Injured While Moving Ties.

Edwin Smallin, who is an employee of the D. & H. company, had the misfortune to be quite seriously hurt while moving ties one day last week. He was taken to the Fox Memorial hospital, where Dr. Cutler attends him. His condition is reported to be favorable, and he hopes soon to return home.

Children's Day Exercises.

The annual Children's Day exercises will be held on Sunday next at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Her Condition Critical.

The condition of Mrs. S. K. Higgins is very critical and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Merrill, were summoned from Binghamton on Monday. She is being Frederickian edifice for the baccalaureate sermon of Milford High school Sunday night.

The invitation extended to the Oneonta District Ministerial association of the Methodist Episcopal church to hold its October meeting at Milford, was enthusiastically accepted at the recent Worcester meeting.

Other Portlandville Mention.

Mrs. Hull and daughter, Emily, have returned to the home of Mrs. Glenn Packer for the summer vacation. Miss Emily will assist in the store as bookkeeper for Mr. Packer. — Mrs. W. L. Wellman, who had the misfortune to scald her feet quite seriously on Wednesday last, is now quite comfortable but unable to be about the house.

A REAL JUNE ROMANCE.

Norman E. Pierce of Oneonta and Miss Ella B. Rowe of Portland, Oregon, United in Marriage After Short Courtship.

Schenesv, June 19. — The culmination of a brief June romance was the marriage of Miss Ella B. Rowe of Portland, Oregon, and Norman E. Pierce of 59 Elm street, Oneonta, on Tuesday evening, June 17. The ceremony was performed Tuesday evening, June 17. The ceremony was performed Tuesday evening by Rev. Father Edward T. Heilly at St. Joseph's rectory in Worcester.

While Mr. and Mrs. Pierce are only short time residents of this vicinity, still both have made a host of friends who will join in congratulations and best wishes. It is thought that they will make their home in Oneonta. The bride has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bernard of Schenectady since June 6. She was born in Syracuse, but had been in the West for some time. She is a young woman of particular charm and grace.

Mr. Pierce has been a resident of Binghamton, but lately has made his headquarters in Oneonta, he being an inspector for the Burroughs's Adding Machine company.

The couple became acquainted little more than two weeks ago and their marriage is considered a true romance by their friends.

Mrs. Hawter at Richfield.

Mrs. Hattie Hawter left Wednesday for Richfield Springs, where she will be located for the summer season at the Carey cottage.

Guests at Schermerhorn Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gledhill and two sons motored through from Avoca Saturday and will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Schermerhorn on South Side. The two boys will remain for the summer.

Receives Excellent Offer.

Miss Grace Lippincott, who for the past two years has been instructor in French and Latin in the high school at Richfield Springs, has received a very flattering offer to teach Latin and Greek in the Troy conference school at Poulinville, Vermont. Miss Lippincott had already contracted to teach another year at Richfield, but if the board of education will release her she will accept this offer from Troy conference. While at Syracuse university Miss Lippincott majored in Greek and is well qualified as an instructor.

To Entertain Sunday School Class.

Mrs. W. A. Magee will entertain her Sunday school class at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Magee has taught the adult women's class in the Methodist Sunday school for a number of years.

Miss Halstead Accepts Position.

Miss Julia H. Halstead has accepted the position of private secretary to Miss Bertha Fowler, president of Folts institute at Herkimer, and will assume her duties possibly about the middle of August. Miss Halstead will graduate next Wednesday from Canastota seminary, where she has been taking a special secretarial course for the past year.

Steak Roast at the Pines.

Four young ladies, the Misses Rosalyn Melnick, Hilda Blair, Luella Halstead and Myra Roberts, motored to the Pines Tuesday afternoon and enjoyed a steak roast. Several other good things to eat were included in the picnic supper.

Mrs. Grassfield Falling Steadily.

Mrs. Jennie Grassfield is critically ill at her home on Main street and is falling steadily. While apparently not suffering any pain she has had two strokes and is gradually becoming weaker.

Miss Lippincott Stands High.

Miss Arma Lippincott, one of the members of the 1924 graduating class of Schenectady high school, has passed all her subjects, receiving nearly a hundred per cent mark in both commercial arithmetic and intermediate algebra and a good mark in geometry as well.

Memor Preston Binghamton Graduate.

Mrs. A. H. Preston plans to leave for Binghamton Saturday to visit her daughter-in-law and grandson, who are visiting in this city. Memo Preston will graduate Tuesday evening from the Central High school in Binghamton, one of a class of 217 graduates.

Personal.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett left on Monday for Hartwick to visit her grand-daughter, Mrs. Henry Apple and family. — Mrs. Alice M. Bennett spent Wednesday in Oneonta. — Russell Grant is visiting in Hudson Falls. — Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Niles of Little Falls are spending several days in town at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Leon Roberts, on Walton avenue.

ORDEN-MURPHY WEDDING.

Frank Ordern of Milford United in Marriage With Miss Murphy of Otvid. Milford, June 19. — Miss Gertrude Virginia Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Otvid, and Frank O. Ordern, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Ordern of Milford, were married Wednesday, June 19, at 2:30 o'clock at the church of the Holy Cross, Otvid, New York.

Both are popular young people and have a host of friends who will extend congratulations and best wishes. Mr. Ordern is a graduate of the Albany Business college and holds an excellent position with the State hospital at Willard. After a wedding trip by automobile through the Adirondack part of the state Mr. and Mrs. Ordern will reside at Otvid.

IMPERFECT JUSTICE

It was admirable for the fathers of young Leo and Leopold, in Chicago, to announce that they would not use their millions to thrust justice in the coming murder trials.

"Only such defense as is entitled to which every human being is entitled will be provided for their sons," they have declared in a public statement.

"Assuming the facts in this case are substantially as published, there is a simple, solemn investigation under the law, touching the mental responsibility of their accused sons."

They propose to leave it to the local bar association how much they should pay in fees to lawyers and alienists for the defense.

Fathers could hardly be expected to go farther than this, under the circumstances. Yet from the viewpoint of perfect justice, administered according to a supposedly democratic system, there may suit be something lacking.

Sons of poor parents, accused of murder, would not have the advantage of the ablest criminal lawyers in their community, nor a corps of famous alienists to present their psychology in as favorable a light as possible. If they were poor, there would be no prolonged legal battle, with rival groups of lawyers and alienists arrayed against each other.

As matters stand, there can hardly be any "simple, solemn investigation," because the attorneys for the defense will be sure to avail themselves of every possible technicality and legal trick to save their clients—for their own fame if not for big fees.

In a really democratic system of court procedure, would there not be established lawyers and psychologists, of recognized ability, to perform uniform services in defense of rich and poor alike?

THE FINEST GIRL

"The modern girl," says Dr. Katherine D. Manion, retiring president of the National Medical Women's association, "is the healthiest, happiest girl the world has ever known, and I wouldn't exchange the modern flapper, as you call her, for any other girl of any other time. Girls used to be defenseless creatures, who sat at home with their knitting, laced up in tight corsets, and almost never indulged in any outdoor exercise."

"The girl of today, who swims, plays golf, does all sorts of outdoor sports, wears flat heels and takes long hikes, is something to be admired because they are no longer needed. The modern girl's mind is as healthy as her body and her intelligence and independence protect her."

"The girl of today is a generalist, to be sure. Every observer knows that there are girls whose conduct leaves much to be desired. But isn't this kindly woman doctor right in the main? The faults of the modern girl are open and frank, like her virtues, and therefore impress critics unduly. In spite of the view—with alarm, she may have a higher measure of substantial virtues than any previous generation that we know anything about."

Spare the Birds.

From city and farm we hear the call: Spare the birds; they are saving our fruits, flowers, gardens and grain from the insects that would take them. God first taught the Fatherhood of God, then the brotherhood of man, then the protective care of the beautiful and useful creatures about us. We talk about the "dumb animals." True they cannot speak to us in our language, but they are not so dumb.—Thrill Magazine.

THE GUIDE POST—

BY Henry and Tertius VanDyke

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

Seek ye out of the book of Jehovah, and read.—Is. 31:10.

Born in the East and clothed in oriental form and imagery, the Bible walks the ways of all the world with familiar feet and enters land after land to find its own everywhere.

It has learned to speak in hundreds of languages to the heart of man.

It comes into the palace to tell the monarch that he is a servant of the Most High, and into the cottage to assure the peasant that he is a son of God.

Children like to listen to its stories with wonder and delight, and wise men ponder them as parables of life. It has a word of peace for the time of peril, a word of comfort for the day of calamity, a word of light for the hour of darkness.

Its oracles are repeated in the assembly of the people, and its counsels whispered in the ear of the lonely.

The wicked and the proud tremble at its warning, but to the wounded and the penitent it has a mother's voice.

The wilderness and the solitary place have been made glad by it, and the deserts on the earth have been made glad by its well-worn path.

It has woven itself into our deepest emotions and colored our deepest dreams, so that love and friendship, sympathy and devotion, mercy and hope, rest on the beautiful promises of its inspired speech, breathing of benedictions and truth.

LEAGUE STATEMENT

Marked Gains Claimed for Third Year of Pooling Plan at Convention

THREE MILLION IN BANKS

Seven of Board of Directors Re-elected, Henry Burden of Cazenovia New Member—Current Assets Claimed to be More Than Double Current Liabilities—One Hundred Eighty-Five Association Plants.

Utica, June 19.—The Dairyman's League Cooperative Association, Inc., made marked gains during its last fiscal year, the third year of the pooling plan, and is in a stronger position financially than ever.

These facts, encouraging to organized dairymen, were placed on the record amid much enthusiasm at the fifth annual meeting of the association, an all-day session, in the state armory, this city, today. The association's accomplishments were brought about despite the general agricultural depression and the low level of milk prices.

G. W. Slocum, of Milton, Pa., president of the association, said of the year's achievements: "I challenge any cooperative association in the country to show a better record."

Delegates at the meeting represented 897 locals with a total membership of 66,443. In the great audience were representatives from many banks in New York city and up-state cities and towns. Agricultural leaders and dairy farmers and their wives from all parts of League territory were among the visitors.

That great progress is being made by this farmers' cooperative marketing association is shown by these outstanding facts taken from the annual reports for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1924:

Average gross pool price per 100 pounds for all grade B milk at the base zone, testing 3 per cent butterfat, 20 cents higher than the average for the preceding year.

Average net pool price, including certificates of indebtedness, an increase of 18 cents.

Average cash distribution, an increase of 22 1/2 cents.

Average deductions from milk checks for certificates of indebtedness, a decrease of $0.019.

Administrative charges, a decrease of $0.007 per 100 pounds.

That the organized farmers are in "big business" is borne out by the fact that the association's gross sales of all products for the fiscal year amounted to $75,132,468.64. The total milk handled aggregated 3,995,000,000 pounds.

The strength of the association is shown by the following from the annual report of Treasurer Chester Young: "Cash in bank, $3,057,378.84; plants and equipment after charging off depreciation and mortgages, $6,272,898.33; other assets, $8,394,057.22. The current assets are more than double the current liabilities. The excess of the current assets over current liabilities are sufficient to pay 52 per cent of all of the outstanding certificates of indebtedness without considering the real estate values which have been more than conservatively depreciated."

At the present time the association has 135 plants of which 156 are farmer owned and 29 are leased.

The big audience made a striking picture in the flag bedecked auditorium as President Slocum from a platform decorated with wild flowers and spring foliage called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock.

After routine business, F. H. Thomson of Holland Patent, N. Y., chairman of the board of directors, reported the election of directors on May 24 as follows:

G. W. Slocum, Milton, Pa., district No. 24; Chester Young, Napanoch, N. Y., district No. 5; Fred H. Saxauer, Auburn, N. Y., district No. 13; H. J. Kershaw, Sherburne, N. Y., district No. 13; John Rosenbach, Buffalo, N. Y., district No. 16; Herbert L. Seely, Academy Corners, Pa., district No. 20; Paul Smith, Newark Valley, N. Y., district 21; Henry Burden, Cazenovia, N. Y., district No. 11. Seven were re-elected. Henry Burden, president of the Cazenovia National Bank, Cazenovia, N. Y., is the only new member on the board.

At the present time the association has 135 plants of which 156 are farmer owned and 29 are leased.

The big audience made a striking picture in the flag bedecked auditorium as President Slocum from a platform decorated with wild flowers and spring foliage called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock.

After routine business, F. H. Thomson of Holland Patent, N. Y., chairman of the board of directors, reported the election of directors on May 24 as follows:

NOW FOR THE FINISHING TOUCHES

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

Days of Old Recalled by Items Clipped from The Star Files.

JUNE 20, 1904.

The daughters of the American Revolution have presented to the High school a facsimile engraving of the Declaration of Independence, handsomely framed in oak. It will hang in the study hall.

A postal received by a friend from George B. Baird states that himself and party left here in his automobile at 2:45 p. m. and reached Phenicia, in the Catskills, 75 miles away, at 8 p. m.

The following were graduated from the intermediate to the senior department at the recent Children's Day exercises of the Main Street Baptist church: Clara Barnes, Ellen Wainwright, Clara Morse, Edith Barnes, Myrtle Johnson, Ethel Evans, Mable Smith, Ida Parks, Leta Anderson, Reva Walling, Lizzie Watts, Ethel Ameson, Harriett Louck, Leona Smith, Bethel Anderson.

The new two story brick building located on the back end of the lot at the corner of Main and Elm streets and will front on Elm street. This will leave a lot with a frontage on Main street of 28 1/2 feet and a frontage on Elm street of 110 feet. It is the purpose of the company to grade the plot and make a small park there of to remain as such until the lot is sold for a building or some other purpose. It will probably not be necessary to remove any of the old willow and elm trees which now grace the corner to make room for the construction of the new building.

Last evening occurred the 26th annual commencement exercises of the Oneonta Union school at the Metropolitan theatre.

C. W. Peck received last evening a tandem bicycle. There now two owned in town and they are much liked.

G. E. Chamberlain, T. A. Rowe, R. W. Whipple and R. O. Matteson have been elected to membership in the D. F. Wilber Hook and Ladder company.

The marriage of Beryl H. Morris of Oneonta, to Miss Mary Elizabeth, daughter of George Vail of Vail's Mills, was solemnized last evening in the presence of a brilliant gathering of friends. A Stanley Morris, brother of the groom, was best man and the maid of honor was Miss Eva Day. The bridesmaids were Miss Laura Sanford and Miss Martha Beaumont, both of Addison. The ushers were Harry Baker and T. A. Rowe of Oneonta.

A WALTON ANNIVERSARY

Descendants of Founders Unveil Tablet on Saturday—University Reunion in Afternoon.

Walton, June 19.—At 1 p. m. Saturday, June 21, at Walton, there will be unveiled a tablet to the founders of Walton, viz: Dr. Platt Townsend, Joshua Pine, William Furman, Gabriel North, Robert North and their families, who in 1785 took possession of the lands which they had acquired from William Walton, Jr., a founder of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

Addresses will be delivered by Hon. J. Walter Drake of Detroit, assistant secretary of commerce, and by Dr. A. C. Flick of Albany, state historian, and messages will be read from various historical societies, the D. A. R., secretary of war and the governors of Connecticut and New York. The actual unveiling will be done by a group of little children, descendants of the founders. There will be a parade and an exhibit of historical papers and relics.

Later in the afternoon, under the direction of the eastern alumni of the Universities of Stanford and California, there will be held at Walton a thirty-year reunion of collegians who were assembled at an intercollegiate reunion in the Yosemite valley thirty years ago. After opening addresses at the city hall there will be moving pictures exhibited of the Yosemite valley and other California scenes, and then various athletic stunts. After supper the collegians will stage a bonfire started with pine cones from the Yosemite, cedar twigs from Monterey, oak twigs from the college campus at Berkeley, redwood twigs from the famous Muir woods, etc. Then a cedar dug from the site of the first campfire will be planted, sprinkled with water recently sent on from Yosemite falls. The committee in charge includes Edgar Rickard of New York and San Francisco, formerly of the Belgian Relief commission, Senator S. C. Mastick of Westchester county, Stephen T. Mather of Washington, D. C., director of national parks, Will Irwin of New York, Rev. Hugh Morgan of Ithaca, Archie Rice of New York, Mrs. Milo Acker of Hornell and Arthur W. orth of Walton.

Addresses will be made before the fire and arrangements made for a reunion five years hence.

Weather and Crop Conditions.

Temperatures and sunshine for week ending June 17 were about normal in New York sections near the Great Lakes, but somewhat below the normal elsewhere. Only light scattered showers occurred during the week, says the state weather bureau at Ithaca.

The week was favorable for farm work and much was accomplished. It was the warmest and best growing week of the season; however, it was still too cold for corn and beans to germinate well. Winter grains, oats, and clover and alfalfa were much improved; old meadows are rather thin, but clover and alfalfa are doing better. Corn planting is nearly completed in most sections and bean planting is well under way; some cabbage have been set. Most gardens are now planted; truck crops show improvement, but are still backward. Orchard fruit is doing satisfactory and strawberries are quite promising.

LOCAL MENTIONS

—The bonus office of the American Legion will be open this afternoon and evening, hours 2 to 4 o'clock and 7 to 9 o'clock.

—Rumors reached Oneonta last evening of an overturned motor car near Emmons, but particulars could not be learned last evening. Developments are expected today, however.

—Dr. J. W. Flynn of the First Methodist church of this city will preach the sermon to the graduating class of Milford High school on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Milford Presbyterian church.

—State troopers were active at East End last evening, arresting two parties at least for reckless driving. The road to Colliers has been used as a speedway this spring, and the authorities are determined to put a stop to the practice.

—The Oneonta Giants are idle today. Saturday and Sunday they will play the strong Kingston Colonials in Kingston and on Monday they will appear in Tannersville. There will be no game in Oneonta until Wednesday night.

O. H. S. ALUMNI BANQUET

Preparations Being Made for Enjoyable Get-Together Monday Night.

Those intending to attend the annual banquet and dance of the Oneonta High School Alumni association, to be held on Monday evening in the High school building, are again requested to secure their tickets as soon as possible that it may be known how many to prepare for. A ticket has been sent to each alumnus of the institution. Additional tickets may be secured of Alfred V. Carr at the Carr Clothing company store, Lloyd Lawson at Gardner's shoe store, or Fred H. Broese at the Oneonta Department store.

Although the response from the alumni has been disappointing, so far, it is believed that there will be a good attendance Monday night. Edwin H. Moore will be toastmaster and responses will be given by Miss Olga Trieb of the graduating class, Raymond M. Tucker of the class of 1909, and Rev. J. A. Judge. There will be selections by the High school quartet, a solo by Miss Annie Waters and a reading by Miss Christine Crippen.

Following the banquet there will be dancing in the school gymnasium. The announcement that the Golden Gate Syncopators will furnish the music is an indication that this feature of the evening will be most enjoyable.

Meetings Today.

The White Rose Sewing circle of L. A. to B. of R. T. will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. B. Chappell, 18 High street.

Meeting of St. James' parish this afternoon at 2:30, in the parish house. A good attendance is requested as there is business of great importance. This will be the last meeting until September.

Regular meeting of E. R. C. of A. this evening at 7:30, in the Trade and Labor hall.

The American Legion auxiliary will meet at the Community house at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Plans for a motion picture benefit performance will be discussed.

Troop Two of Girl Scouts will meet at the Community house at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon.

Thirty-Fifth Anniversary Oneonta Normal School Was Observed Yesterday

Excellent Orations and Music Features of Commencement Day—Suggestive Address to Class by Assistant State Commissioner Wiley—Final Words of Counsel and Appreciation by Principal Bugbee Close Exercises—Two Hundred Ten Names on Year's List of Graduates

Genuine Oneonta Normal weather marked the closing hours of commencement week at the "school upon the hill" yesterday morning. With skies practically cloudless and with a gentle breeze drifting across the valley of the Susquehanna, the day was an ideal one, full of delight in the present and of happy omen for the future. Bright, however, as were the skies, even brighter were the faces of the members of the class of 1924, who after the full period of scholastic training, were now to receive the diploma which was evidence of what they have accomplished, and authority for what they propose to undertake. The rostrum of the school auditorium was profusely decorated with reasonable flowers, while to the right of the American flag was fitting emblem of that patriotism which it is a province of the institution to inculcate.

Promptly at the stroke of ten, the procession of state representatives, visitors, officers, and teachers entered the auditorium and proceeded to the rostrum, being followed by the members of the class, who occupied seats at center and left of the hall. Those upon the platform with Dr. Bugbee and the Normal faculty included Dr. George M. Wiley, assistant commissioner of education, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pondexter of the Main Street Baptist church, O. H. Rowe, Mrs. George H. Baird and Irving H. Rowe of the local board, Mayor Bolton, and Supt. George J. Dann, Principal H. G. VanDeusen and Messrs. Henry Saunders and A. E. Ford of the Oneonta High school faculty and the board of education of the public schools. Though the class as a whole was a large one, as will be seen by the list which appears herewith, the actual number present was reduced by the fact that a majority of the members had completed their work earlier in the year and, owing to the immediate demand for teachers of Oneonta calibre, had accepted positions throughout the state. Few of these schools have as yet closed and they were therefore unable to be present, though there is no doubt that in spirit they were with their classmates in Oneonta yesterday.

Following the invocation by Dr. Pondexter, the Glee Club, under the competent direction of Miss Esther M. Greene of the Normal faculty, rendered "Evening Prayer in Britain" by Chaminade. Other musical features, which interspersed the several orations and addresses, were a delightful solo, "Come Down, Laughing Streamlet," by Miss Greene; "Softly My Heart Unfolds" by the school chorus; and Cadman's "Indian Mountain Song" by the Glee club. The work of club and chorus were alike excellent and told as nothing else could the quality of their instruction and their own diligence.

The Commencement Orations.

Each year five of the twelve honor students are chosen to give orations. Each year these orations are thoughtful, helpful, and interesting. This year was no exception to the usual order of excellence. The topics were timely; the presentation was forceful; the subject-matter proved of interest and profit to the audience. The first speaker was Miss Sadie Galvin of Saltpoint, Dutchess county. She spoke on this topic, "A Good Teacher." She discussed, especially, the need of a good teacher in the country school. She gave a very interesting account of such a teacher in a rural school in Missouri. This teacher transformed the life of the community and made that school famous for vital subjects and good teaching. The speaker contended that what was done in Missouri can be done in the state of New York. The most important factor in education is a good teacher.

The second speaker of the morning was Miss Ernestine Hillsley of Albany county. Her subject was "The Need of the Hour." She analyzed the present tendency in congress to legislate for a section and a class without regard for the greater need of the whole country. The discussion was unusually timely; for the present congress has been dominated by a very small and selfish minority. "We need in office," she said, "men who are honest and fearless and patriotic men who consider the needs of the whole country, who do what they do honestly, fearlessly, and justly." In this connection, she paid a high tribute of praise to Congressman Clarke of this district.

Miss Edna Horstman of Scotia, Schoenectady county, was the third speaker of the morning. She chose for her discussion this topic, "The Reward of Effort." She demonstrated very clearly and ably that the greatest reward of effort is the consciousness of having done the thing well. The greatest reward of the physician is the recovery of the patient. The greatest reward of the lawyer is the triumph of justice. The greatest reward of the minister is the righteousness of his parishioners. The greatest reward of the teacher is the happy and wholesome lives of children who profit by sound instruction. The well-being of the world, she maintained, is the goal of all effort.

The fourth speaker was Miss Mabel Knapp of Hartford, Washington county. She gave a very finished oration on the topic of "The Teacher's Ideal." She introduced her discussion effectively by extensive analysis of Tennyson's splendid poem "The Revenge." No better example could be given of loyalty to an ideal. She used this instance of perfect loyalty as a model for the teacher's loyalty to the ideal of life. The teacher more than other workers deals in these ideals. If the teacher is truly and hopefully such ideals will mean much in the young generation. The people who are without an ideal are without hope and purpose. If men follow the vision, they will arrive at a worthy station in life.

The last oration of the morning was given by Miss Lena Cortin of Roxbury, Delaware county. She is a very forceful speaker indeed, and she seemed to be convinced of the city's repeated saying that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. That was her topic, "The Eternal Struggle." She showed very clearly that the divine plan does not favor despotism but freedom and personal independence. However, no order of government is stable. There is constant change. Since the Great War this change has been great, and often harmful. Even in America there is danger of harmful change. If we would continue to enjoy the best form of government thus far devised by man, we must oppose those who would change this form of government for something less desirable for the full development of the individual. Indeed, we might safely say that any change proposed should be put to searching test before it is even considered for adoption.

These orations were highly interesting and worthy of the best traditions of the Normal school. The Star takes this occasion to congratulate the speakers and all who had charge of the program. The State Education Department was represented by George M. Wiley, M. A., LL.D., the assistant state commissioner. He was presented by Dr. Bugbee, who referred pleasantly to his previous visits to Oneonta, to the genuine interest which he has taken in the school and its work, to the fact, for which a large debt of gratitude is due, that he had gone out of his way to do things for the institution, and that he came yesterday morning with the authority of the regents and of the commissioner to present diplomas to the graduates.

After a foreword in which he expressed his pleasure in being again in Oneonta and in listening to the admirable orations of the morning, Dr. Wiley, taking for his theme "Attitudes and Aptitudes," addressed the class, offering words of counsel and admonition on lines which, if somewhat unusual, carried with them most impressive lessons, saying in part:

Dr. Wiley Addresses Class.

What can you do? the world may ask. What skills have you? What abilities are yours? What capability in any particular field have you developed. Whatever the type of work, be it manual or mental, whether you have a job or hold a position, whether you receive wages or draw a salary, the world will inquire and moreover is somewhat concerned in your peculiar skills, your special abilities, your individual aptitudes.

What I do may in the final analysis be of very minor importance. On the other hand what I think about what I do, what I think about things in general, my attitude toward my work, my attitude toward my neighbor, my attitude toward life, is fundamental. A sound philosophy of life (our philosophy of life is our attitude toward things) is quite as fundamental as vocational or professional efficiency. We may express the truth much stronger. The determining factor in life is not your particular skill or aptitude, but rather your attitude toward your work and toward life; in other words, your philosophy of life.

Every one has a philosophy of life, of some sort. The unfortunate phase of the matter lies in the fact that with so many individuals this attitude toward life is unsound or totally rotten at the core. The young carpenter with his simple but sound philosophy is more than a master for the learned doctors of religion or law. President Coolidge frequently finds a safer and saner, a sounder and surer philosophy in the casual comments of the Northampton village cobbler.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRAVELS

J. P. Thompson Tells Interesting Story of Little Unknown Country at Meeting of Oneonta Rotary Club.

A traveler of unusual interest was that given by J. P. Thompson concerning his recent trip to South America at the regular weekly luncheon of Oneonta Rotary club yesterday. With a wide variety of recollections at his command, Mr. Thompson selected a view of the most interesting and presented them in a manner which held the undivided attention of every man in the room.

Mr. Thompson spoke of the fact that South America is really more east of New York than south. A line run south from New York city would pass through the Panama canal and hit the west coast of South America, a fact little realized by most people. The trip from New York to South America is of three weeks' duration and en route the steamers touch at the Windward Islands, Barbadoes and Trinidad, all of them islands of entrancing beauty and picturesque. Mr. Thompson spent some time in discussing Rio de Janeiro, the principal city of Brazil. His descriptions of the beauty of the city and its environs brought the scenes he touched upon vividly before the minds of his auditors. In speaking of the population he said that the Portuguese regard the black men as their equal and that the resultant admixture of blood has had a bad effect upon the moral tone of the nation.

The speaker said the Buenos Aires, the largest city in South America and the capital of Argentina, is a most progressive city. The hotels are of the best, the park system is unusually extensive and beautiful and the entire city has an air of prosperity. He told of his visit to the coffee centers of South America and of the beauties of the city of Montevideo.

Including Mr. Thompson predicted that the tide of immigration would eventually turn from the United States to South America and that great things are to be expected from our Latin neighbors to the southeast.

Louis A. Hornbeck, executive of the Otsego-Schoharie Boy Scouts council, was welcomed as a new member of the club at the luncheon. Dr. Charles F. Baylis delivered the initiation speech. The guests at the luncheon were Rotarians M. F. Augur, R. W. Ellsworth, F. B. Shipman, A. G. Dunn, Harry Freeman, George H. White, Harris L. Cooke, Frank Lettis, Charles A. Scott, H. L. Kimball, William Bronner and George H. Carley of Cooperstown; Frank Hale of Cooperstown; J. R. Ambrose of Bangor, Me.; Rotarian Lynn L. Babcock of Norwich; Rotarian Charles F. Conarro of Warren, Pa.; Clinton C. DeWitt of Detroit, Mich.; Kiwanian LeRoy S. House, Duncan Briggs and William H. Murray of Oneonta.

Cottiers Get Hit by Auto.

Miss Kathleen McCulla, the six year old daughter of Mrs. Mary McCulla, the latter a housekeeper in the Cottiers home of W. H. Wheeler of New York city, was knocked down while playing in front of the Wheeler residence last evening at 6 o'clock, by the automobile of Dr. M. L. Latcher of this city. Dr. Latcher brought her to the Parshall hospital in this city where she was found to be suffering from fright and slight bruises. She will be able to return home today.

The little miss was playing with several other girls, and Dr. Latcher thought that they were out of danger, but she looked back in the path of his car and the accident was unavoidable.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NBA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The shade of Woodrow Wilson will be invoked at the New York Democratic convention, by a fighting group of his loyal followers, in an effort to carry forward the cause closest to Wilson's heart by incorporating in the party platform a definite and definite plank endorsing American participation in the League of Nations.

Four of Wilson's old cabinet members, all of them listed as possible presidential selections, will join in the fight to commit the party to the league issue. They are:

Joseph D. Baker, former secretary of war.

Charles Glass, who served as head of the treasury after McCade's resignation.

David F. Houston, secretary of navy through the entire eight years of Wilson's regime.

Joseph Daniels, secretary of navy through the entire eight years of Wilson's regime.

There is the shade of real drama in the scene as it is set out for the League of Nations fight.

Wilson's old cabinet in the country, in this American day speech on June 20, will be made the League of Nations fight.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CRIPPEN.

Services for Respected Resident of Oneonta Held From Home Yesterday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Riley Crippen, Sr., who died at the family home, 338 Chestnut street, Monday afternoon last, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house with Rev. J. C. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at East Worcester, and Rev. W. C. Dodge, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church of this city, officiating. Burial was made in the Plains cemetery.

The bearers were Charles Griffin, William H. French, and B. H. Hotelling. During the service "Abide With Me" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" two favorite hymns of the deceased, were very well rendered by Miss Truesdale and Miss Dodge. Included in the floral tributes were pieces from the Eastern Star, the Ladies' Aid society of the Elm Park church, the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and neighbors.

Among the friends out of the city in attendance at the service were Frank B. Coons, and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Coons and child of Burt Hill, James Feeney of Ballston Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lounsbury of Tioxa Center, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Rude of Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes, and son of Horseheads, and Riley Crippen, Jr., of New York city.

MRS. EDA COPELY.

Aged Resident of Wells Bridge Dies After Brief Illness.

UNDILLA, June 19.—Mrs. Eda Copley of Wells Bridge died Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Youmans. She went a little more than a week ago to make her sister a short visit, but was taken suddenly and seriously ill with pneumonia from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Copley was born 75 years ago, the daughter of Martin and Dimmis (Elderkin) Wickham, at Wells Bridge, September 8, 1849. She was united in marriage to William Copley. They lived on a large farm which they owned about one-half mile west of Wells Bridge, and were very industrious and progressive.

One son was born to them, Dr. William Copley, who resides on the opposite side of the Susquehanna. Mrs. Copley was an excellent and devoted mother and friend.

Christian and loyal friend. Besides the son, she is survived by three brothers, William and John of Wells Bridge, and Hiram Wickham of Undilla; three sisters, Mrs. Albert Youmans of Wells Bridge, Mrs. Leslie Smith of Four Creek (Ore.), and Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey of Tucuman, Washington.

The funeral will be held at the home, to which she will be removed, at 10 o'clock, and will be held on Saturday, June 21. The burial will be beside her husband, at Sand Hill, Undilla.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank Dr. Marsh and those who assisted him, also Mrs. Lachet and nurses for the good care and kindness shown me during my three months' stay at the Fox hospital, also the Ladies' guild of the Lutheran church and friends for flowers and so many other tokens of sympathy, all of which helped to cheer the way.

Mrs. H. D. Penn.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to Mrs. W. D. Butler, Mrs. W. H. Dougherty, the Ladies' Aid of the Elm Park church, and other friends for their assistance in our late bereavement, and particularly to those who provided cars for the funeral.

TREASON TRIAL OF WEALTHIEST CITIZEN AROUSES THE BELGIAN POPULACE TO FEVER PITCH

BY MILTON BRONNER.
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

Brussels, June 19.—Belgium is having the greatest sensation it has experienced since the war. The trial of Baron Coppee, the Rockefeller of the country, the great captain of industry, the multi-millionaire, has been hailed into court on a charge of treason.

Fancy it—this man who lives in a palace, who has thousands upon thousands of employees, is sitting upon the bench of the accused in the Assizes Court of Brussels!

"Treason? What? What is your name?" demands the stern judge.

"Eugene Narcisse Joseph Coppee, Baron Coppee."

"Your profession?"

"Business man."

"Your residence?"

"Brussels."

"Sit down, Coppee."

BARON COPPEE

Thus begins the first act of a court drama, expected to last two months, so many are the witnesses, so multiple the documents to be gone into.

Shortly after the armistice accusations were formulated against Coppee, but they were dropped for want of proof.

Then the Socialist newspapers took up the cry and just when Coppee was getting ready to sue them for libel, the state itself took new action against the magnate. It was claimed that new documents, left behind by the Germans when they evacuated Belgium, had given the government damaging evidence.

The act of accusation in the preent trial consumed three days of solid reading. It consisted of 150 pages of printed text, which set forth the allegations that Coppee kept his furnaces and retorts working full time during the war; that he delivered benzol, coal tar and oils to the Germans by thousands of tons; and that he acted freely, voluntarily and knowingly.

In delivering these materials to the Germans the state claims he furnished war materials to the enemy.

In keeping his forces at work in this way, the state claims he virtually furnished men to the enemy.

The benzol Coppee is alleged to have delivered to the Germans could be used not only for the manufacture of asphaltating gases to be used against Belgian and allied troops, but for the manufacture of the explosive for millions of shells used against the allies.

The state admits that the Germans could have requisitioned the materials manufactured by Coppee, but alleges that he intensified his production, perfected his methods and increased his plant.

Not only does the state charge that the Coppee deliveries were used in making poison gases and shells, but also in running airplanes and submarines. Thus, it claims, the Germans saw their military power increased by reason of Belgian benzols.

Coppee has already indicated part of his defense:

First. That the Germans were all powerful in Belgium and could requisition anything they pleased, enforcing its delivery.

Second. That deliveries he made were supposed to remain in Belgium for the benefit of Belgians.

Third. That Count de Broqueville, who was Belgian prime minister at the time, authorized him to trade with the Germans, as the Belgian population could not be allowed to die for want of work.

DELAWARE SUPREME COURT

DELHI WITHOUT NOTED FOR FIRST TERM OF COURT SINCE 1790—MANY INTERESTING CASES.

Verdict of $1,322.50 for Plaintiff in Pratt vs. Neer Case — Mansion-Campbell Verdict With Justice Hill — Grand Jury Expected in Soon — Outlets Valley Telephone Company Again in Court.

Delhi, June 19.—The first case to be tried was No. 1 on the calendar, Helly E. Platt vs. James A. Neer, with Vincent N. Elwood as attorney of record for the plaintiff and Henry F. Gardner, attorney of record for the defendant. Arthur F. Curtis as counsel for plaintiff, and Peake and Peake for defendant. This action was brought to set aside a contract for the sale of a farm in town of Hancock, by the defendant Neer, conducted by the Shout agency. One thousand dollars were paid down on the contract, but when the parties attempted to secure a farm loan it was found there was a flaw in the title, a deed in the name of the plaintiff.

There was also a dispute as to the acreage conveyed. Various claims for damages growing out of the real estate transaction were set up by the plaintiff and counterclaims by the defendant. The trial lasted two full days and yet not many witnesses were sworn, but so many circumstances had to be considered that the case moved slowly. The matter went to the jury about 3 p. m. on Wednesday, the trial having commenced Monday afternoon. After about two hours deliberation the jury returned a verdict of $1,322.50 for plaintiff. It was reported that during or before the trial, the defendant offered $1,250 in settlement of the case.

The second case to reach judge and jury was No. 25 on the calendar—James H. Manion vs. Hugh J. Campbell, Edward E. Conlon, as executor of Archie Campbell, deceased, and Elmer Atkins. This was an action for conversion brought by Manion, who was an automobile dealer, to recover on a claim note which Hugh J. Campbell had given for an auto purchased of plaintiff. The car had been mortgaged to Archie Campbell subject to the note claim and sold by the executor, with the effects of Archie Campbell, deceased. After the trial had proceeded for a short time the attorneys on both sides asked the court to direct a verdict—as yet the decision of the judge has not been made.

The case to be called Thursday morning is No. 45 on the calendar, and concerns another matter connected with the estate of the late Archie Campbell, and is entitled Harvey D. Campbell vs. Edward E. Conlon, executor of Archie Campbell—the controversy is in regard to a note.

The grand jury is still in session Thursday, but it is understood their work is practically completed and they will report during the day. Fifteen cases came before them and it is understood that 10 or 11 indictments were voted.

Wednesday 10 extra jurors were secured by taking the names from the Delhi town box and also an extra panel of 48 were drawn from the county list and have been summoned to appear on Friday morning. It is expected that a large number of witnesses will be required to complete a jury for the trial of Tony Ochilpinto for arson in burning the Kortright barn.

The extra panel of jurors: Frank Gardape, Granton. W. R. Dayton, Bloomville. C. M. Sanford, Dunraven. Fred Hillis, Davenport. Lewis Goodenough, Treadwell. James Davidson, Delhi. R. D. C. Aden Davis, Hobart. William Carley, Franklin. George Flower, Delhi. Warren Shaver, Union Grove. Charles R. Barnes, DeLancy. R. D. James Shaver, Popotom. Gustave Lifgren, Portoma Center. James R. Musk Oxen Drive Off Hungry Wolf Packs

Of all the strange animals of North America the musk ox is one of the queerest and most interesting, says William T. Hornaday in the Youth's Companion. First of all, it is a true connecting link between wild cattle and sheep. It is able to live and thrive in cold arctic regions, even up to the farthest north for hoofed animals, the most northerly point of Greenland. It has horns like the wild Cape buffalo of Africa, cattilelike hoofs, and its flesh looks and tastes like beef. It has next its body a dense coat of soft, woolly hair and through this grows a coat of very long, straight brown hair, like that of the Tibetan yak. It has a tail so short and small that the animal seems tailless. Its supply of "musk" and its "musk" odor are both wholly imaginary.

For thousands of years the musk ox herds have been preserving their calves from the hungry wolf packs of the North by most excellent military tactics. At once forms a compact circle, with the adult bulls and cows standing shoulder to shoulder in the outer circle, and with all the calves and young stock inside.

Even to hungry wolves that circle of deadly down-drooping horns is impregnable. A bull may leave his place for a moment to rush out 30 yards or so in an effort to puncture a wolf, but he never is lured too far. Back he goes to the circle, backs into his place and plays the game to the end.

Doing One's Duty

Take good care of disagreeable duties. Attend to these first. Never select the things that you want to do, and shirk upon others the things that you do not want to do. Choose the disagreeable things you will get in your manhood. You cannot grow in any other way so fast. You may be angry with some shiftless man, who is willing to put on you work that he ought to do himself, but you cannot afford to be unfaithful because somebody else is.—Henry Ward Beecher.

SEND PHOTOGRAPHS OVER PHONE LINES

Device Successful in Cleveland-New York Test.

New York.—Transmission of photographs from Cleveland to New York city over long-distance telephone lines was accomplished in a demonstration by laboratory experts of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

The method, achieved after several years' work, was described by officials of the company as a "simple, rapid and accurate transmitting system." It will be installed on the company's various long-distance lines. It was announced, in accordance with the demand which arises for this type of service.

Pictures of G. O. P. Convention. Cleveland was selected as the place for the transmitting station, so that pictures taken at the Republican national convention might be transmitted to New York within a few minutes. Actual transmissions showed that photographs could be transmitted to New York and made ready for producing newspaper plates within ten minutes from the time the original photograph was placed in the transmitting machine.

The pictures transmitted were five inches by seven inches in size. Messages in handwriting also were transmitted, the copy received being a facsimile of the original message.

How Photo Is Transmitted. In sending a picture, the original is placed around a cylinder within which there is a photo-electric cell. On another cylinder in the receiving office an unused film is placed. Both cylinders revolve in synchronization. During the operation a very small but intense beam of light is thrown on the original photograph, passing through the film to the photo-electric cell with an intensity proportionate to the lights and shades of the original picture.

By the aid of a new device known as a light valve, a beam of light, varying in intensity in exact correspondence with the photo-electric cell, is thrown on the film onto which the picture is being transmitted. The receiving cylinder revolves, the ray of light moves gradually from one end of the cylinder to the other end. When the end is reached the film is ready for development.

Modern Chinese Girls Defy Ancient Traditions

Peking.—"I cannot bear the tyrannical rule at home; therefore, I have decided never to return. I shall cut off my hair and become a nun."

In these words Pei Chin, an emancipated Chinese girl, is said to have defied her father after he had reprimanded her for writing for certain Chinese magazines on the subjects of democracy, feminine freedom and love. The father has appealed to the police to help him find his wayward offspring.

Tsai Tseng, nineteen, a pupil of one of the local schools, decided to have a "look see" at the man selected for her by her father. Finding him as she expected, uncouth and a country lad, she expostulated with father. Not willing to offend his old friend, the prospective bridegroom's father, the parent of the girl managed to secure her conditional promise. The young man must dress himself in foreign clothes for three months and at the end of each week must present himself for inspection.

"It is too early to talk about marriage," the girl is reported to have declared. "I will wait and see if he can get rid of his country ways."

TO PRESERVE HOME OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

Memphis House to Be Memorial for Two Wars.

Memphis.—The old home of Jefferson Davis in this city is to be repaired and preserved as a two-fold memorial of the Civil war and the World war.

The quaint old structure is to be maintained in its original plan and design in the midst of a small group of mansions of other days which still stand in the heart of the French and German districts.

Veterans of the World war have sponsored the movement, which has as its object not only the preservation of the Davis home for the historical value of its Civil war associations, but also to give Memphis post, No. 1, American Legion, a home that is to serve as a memorial to World-war dead.

Jefferson Davis lived in Memphis two years during the reconstruction period. His home was located at what is now Court avenue and Fourth street, almost within a stone's throw of Main street.

The house was the center of the city's social activity during the brief period the ex-president of the Confederacy and his family lived here.

But when Davis moved away, the dwelling was permitted to fall into decay, and as the business district pushed eastward from the river, it became enmeshed in a crowded district of business structures.

The Legion's appeal for funds has found ready response among the people of Memphis and in the surrounding territory. The Legion asked for $30,000 with which to buy the property and pay for its repair. The major portion of the sum has been paid in, and the first two payments have been made on the purchase price of the property.

Made Sick of Liquor

One of the most original ways of curing the habitual drunkard is that practiced in the "Inebriates' homes" of Norway. And, according to report, it is one of the most effectual.

When brought to the "home" the "case" is allowed nothing but wine to drink. Not only this, but all food supplied to inmates is flavored with, or dipped in, wine.

For a day or two there are "no complaints." But gradually the wine and wine-flavored food begin to pall, until presently even the most thorough-going drunkard begins to wonder what virtues the grape can possibly possess. So quickly does the treatment work, indeed, it is claimed even the worst cases can be cured.

NATIONAL HONORS AND LOCAL SALES

Would you ever think of being hugely interested in corsets, other people's corsets at that? And if you had discovered that all the fascinating art and science of salesmanship could be wrapped up in corset and undergarments, would you think you had any chance of carrying off a record, way out in Idaho? Well, Sophie Boellert was and did. That is to say, she found herself a saleswoman in a Boise store. She set herself to "work, and hard work, with tireless ambition to go on and on." She took one course of study after another, for "we never have enough learning."

That she won the national prize in corset selling not long ago is just one milestone on her way. She's buyer and department manager in the Boise Mode. That means that she has come to know intimately the buying public of Idaho, and the manufacturers of America and the world as they are translated to the retail trade through the clever, complicated, ever changing, ever interesting New York market. She's a director of the store, which means that she's managed to learn how to work with other people day in and day out, to get her own way when it's based on good hard knowledge without irritating the other person, and to yield her opinion as gracefully when other judgment is the better.

Her position means work with much overtime, but Miss Boellert finds opportunity for outside interests. "I've always been interested in helping girls up in their work," she says. "My own experience is that the best foundations for the average girl are laid in smaller towns. People seem to have more time. But in any place the study of human nature is the most interesting one. This many-sided study is a great help in any work. One of the most interesting studies today is selling. We are all doing that. It has many angles and the whole world enters it at some angle."

Miss Boellert's own life seems to bear out her statement about the wide angle vision possible to the good saleswoman wherever she is. The war brought more than one honor to this Idaho woman who had been so conscientiously preparing herself. And when, just after the war, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women was started, the women of Idaho chose Miss Boellert to be their representative in the national council. Each year they have re-elected her. This year she has mothered two new clubs into being, and has two more on the point of organization. "So," she comments, "I'm busy most of the time."

Onions Good Crop for Small Garden

Staple That Should Be Considered for Summer and Winter Use.

Onions are one of the most generally grown garden crops of the whole list and yet very few gardeners produce more than enough for green onions in the spring, and possibly a few mature onions for winter use. This is due largely to the fact that gardeners are in the habit of going to the seed store and buying a quart of onion sets, planting them and calling the job done. As a matter of fact, there are onions for almost every purpose and those that mature at different times of the year. First, the little multiplier or top onions can be planted in the fall and in cold sections given a little covering of straw during the winter. Farther south they will need no protection whatever. These are ready for use as green onions just as soon as the first warm days of spring arrive and later produce sets to be planted the following autumn. Then there are the old-fashioned potato onions which multiply by division of the bulbs. These can be planted in the fall or in the spring as desired, and are used both as green and as mature onions. They are very mild in flavor and of excellent quality.

Bermuda and Spanish onions can be grown by sowing the seed in the hot-bed and transplanting the sets to the open ground when they are about the size of a state pencil and the soil is in condition to work. This is known as "new" onion culture. There are a number of standard varieties of regular summer onions such as Silver Skin, Yellow Globe, Red Globe, Prize Taker, Japanese, and so on, that are suitable for producing onions that are to be stored and used during the winter. Very little space is required to grow enough onions for family use, as a bushel of mature bulbs may be grown on a space 10 by 11 feet in size.

SUNSHINE AND WATER

Sunshine and water are the two hardest working and most important factors in the growth of our garden crops. Too much or too little of either is injurious, but blended in just the right proportions they work wonders.

PREHISTORIC MAN TRACED BY TEETH

Active When Mediterranean Was Two Inland Lakes.

London.—In the story unfolded at the Royal Anthropological Institute recently by Sir Arthur Keith, there were touches of a tale of romance with not a little of the mystery we associate with the doings of Sherlock Holmes. The story chiefly concerned a great cave—Ghar Dalam—which opens on the side of a mountain, near the south eastern corner of Malta, and about five miles from Valletta, writes the London Morning Post.

The cave is a vast rambling place—measuring over 700 feet from its entrance on the ravine to its most distant recesses. But it is the floor which is the chief center of interest for archeologists; they hope to find in the strata on its floor—varying from eight feet to eighteen feet in depth—fossil records of the time when Malta was part of the land bridge which joined Italy to Tunis, and divided the Mediterranean into two inland lakes.

Neanderthal Teeth Found. The event has proved that early man, of the Neanderthal type—the forbidding species which disappeared from Europe long before the Ice Age ended—had passed this way, and by force or by his own free will did enter Ghar Dalam, never to come out again. Only two of his molar teeth have been found, but they are amply sufficient for his recognition—they are fossilized to the same degree as the bones of extinct species of elephant and hippopotamus which lay side by side with them in the red cave earth. In no race of men have such teeth ever been seen except in the Neanderthal species.

How Discovery Was Made.

The discovery was made in these circumstances: Just before the war broke out the British association undertook to explore the antiquities of Malta—particularly those of Ghar Dalam. The actual work fell chiefly on Dr. Desport, curator of the Natural History museum in Malta. In the autumn of 1917 he spent his holiday digging a trench across the floor of the cave, 110 feet from its entrance. It was this trench which revealed the remarkable molars just mentioned; both lay in the red cave earth, one two and a half feet below the surface, the other three and a half feet. Before Ghar Dalam was the only place in south Europe which had yielded the fossil remains of this peculiar species of man.

Lately, thanks to the interest which Prof. T. Zammit, rector of the University of Malta, takes in matters relating to prehistoric man, all the teeth found by Doctor Desport in Ghar Dalam were sent to the Royal College of Surgeons in order that they might be compared, examined and described. The result of this examination has been to convince Sir Arthur Keith that no mistake has been made, the molar teeth are those of Neanderthal man.

Teeth an Important Link.

With the teeth there came from Malta a detailed survey of Ghar Dalam and of the strata of its floor, prepared by Mr. George Sinclair, M. I. C. E. His plans and levels threw a new light on the age of the strata in the cave floor and of the fossil remains, including the Neanderthal molars, which were found in them. It became thus possible to connect the deposits in this great Maltese cave with the famous ones of Grimaldi, on the Riviera, near Mentone, where the bones and culture of paleolithic man occur in such abundance.

In the floor of the Ghar Dalam there are the remains of the old sea beach—a bone breccia, made of rolled pebbles and rolled pieces of the fossil bones of three extinct species of elephant and of two of hippopotamus.

Ancient Hunters Used Cave.

How did the bones of these multitudes of elephants and of hippopotamus become collected in such number in Ghar Dalam? Ghar Dalam, as Mr. Sinclair has pointed out, offered ancient hunters ideal conditions for trapping and coralling driven droves and herds of wild beasts. The neighboring bay, Marsa Scirocco—now a part of the salt sea—was, in the days of the inter-continental land bridge, a shallow fresh-water lake—just the place to attract droves of elephant and hippopotamus. Up from that lake went the natural road to the plateau beyond the ravine on the eastern side of which the entrance to the cave opened. Wild beasts, driven up this defile until they reached the mouth of the cave, could have been hunted by prehistoric hunters toward the mouth of the cave. Once within the cave one can still imagine the stampede and the bloody slaughter. Of the suppositions put forward to explain the vast accumulation of remains of elephant and hippopotamus in the floor of Ghar Dalam the invocation of paleolithic hunters gives the best solution.

"... This sort of reasoning has helped thousands of women..."

Give Your Wife This Message

IF your wife says that washing dishes and clothes has made her hands look red and coarse and feel uncomfortably rough, remind her of these facts:

That such hands result from the use of an inferior household soap which irritates the skin. That she should select the kind of household soap she uses with as great care as she does her toilet soap.

It is this reasoning that has led thousands of the most intelligent housewives always to insist upon Kirkman's Soap for every household and laundry purpose.

And if your wife will insist upon Kirkman's she will get a soap as harmless to her hands as is the most exquisite toilet soap.

THE reason is that Kirkman's Soap is free from lime to harm the skin or injure the most delicate fabrics. And the cleansing properties of Kirkman's Soap make it a quick and most thorough cleanser. You find that most of the "elbow-grease" is in the suds when you use it.

For the sake of your hands, insist upon Kirkman's.

YOUR HANDS WILL BE GRATEFUL
